About Us

The BonnBrain Conference gathers experts from around the world to exchange the latest unpublished insights into how neural networks control behaviour. Keynotes, focused symposia, vibrant poster sessions, and a student-organised symposium create an inspiring environment for 250 participants at all career stages. The meeting is co-hosted by the University of Bonn, DZNE, and the Max-Planck-Institute for Neurobiology of Behavior – caesar.

Your Benefits

Premium visibility in a high-profile scientific community

Networking & recruitment opportunities with future collaborators and talent

Positive brand image as a supporter of excellent research and innovation

Exclusivity: Limited number of sponsorship packages – first come, first served!

BonnBrain unites international researchers to explore the complexities of neural circuits and behavior.
